

Subject	Reading (Comprehension)	Term	Summer
----------------	-------------------------	-------------	--------

What reading skills have I already developed?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- I can compare the character traits of different characters across two texts and comment on their similarities and differences.</li> <li>- I can justify my opinions by drawing on evidence from one or two pieces of writing.</li> <li>- I can identify a limerick as a humorous five-line rhyming poem that follows a distinct rhythm by following a pattern of syllables in each line.</li> <li>- I can explain the rhyme scheme in a limerick.</li> <li>- I can identify and comment on the features of a rap poem.</li> <li>- I can identify and comment on colloquial language.</li> <li>- I understand the characteristics of a free verse poem.</li> </ul>

Focus Texts for this unit Mythologica by Stephen Kershaw
The Orchard Book of Greek Myths by Geraldine McCaughrean
The Tunnel by Anthony Browne
A Kid in My Class by Rachel Rooney

What reading skills will I refine by the end of the unit?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- I know what a synonym is and can use a thesaurus to find relevant synonyms to the language I encounter in a text.</li> <li>- I know what a glossary is and can create useful glossaries of my own about the text I am reading.</li> <li>- I know how to use my sequencing and inference skills learned so far to make predictions about future events in a story.</li> <li>- I know how to summarise ideas from across several paragraphs/sections of text.</li> <li>- I know how to compare two texts using summarising skills.</li> </ul>

Other texts I might like to read...
Greek Myths by Marcia Williams Who Let the Gods Out? By Maz Evans Beasts of Olympus by Lucy Coats
The Language of Cat by Rachel Rooney

Key Vocabulary
opinion	a view or judgement formed about something, not necessarily based on fact evidence	facts or information indicating whether a belief or proposition is true or valid
myth	a traditional story
fable	a short story conveying a moral moral	a lesson that can be derived from a story chronological	following the order in which they occurred quotation	a group of words taken from a text or speech